Babson Institute Hymn

(The Glee Club will sing the first two stanzas, after which the audience will please rise and join in the last two stanzas.)

From mountain and rolling plain,
 From ocean shore and rolling sea,
 Thy sons have gathered once again
 To pledge to thee our loyalty.

Thy founders built well thy walls,
 Which strong through changing years have stood;
 So may we build within thy halls
 Foundations of our brotherhood.

Forever, against the night,
 Thy beacon sends its constant ray;
 A symbol of His greater Light
 To Whom for guidance now we pray.

Though stormy will be the sea
 Where far and wide our ships will roam,
 A Pilot sure and wise have we,
 Whose charted course will guide us home.

- A. C.
